Extensive Program Outlined By President Guerdon Ellis For Local Chamber Of Commerce; Community Chest Planned

BOARD OF DIRECTORS PLEDGE FULL COOPERATION WITH SUPERVISORS CITY COUNCIL AND ALL OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

The Nevada City Chamber of Commerce has started its 31st year and a program has been established to make it the most successful in the history of the local booster organization.

Imbued with enthusiasm by a new constitution and by-laws, the local chamber members are hopeful of accomplishing much work that lies within the realm of the organization and heretofore untouched.

Supervisor Guerdon Ellis of the Tahoe National Forest, who was installed recently as head of the chamber, is busy working on the personnel of six standing committees which are to work hand in hand with the board of directors on the chamber's program for the coming year. The committees will be mining, highways, recreation and travel stimulation, business and civic relationships and publicity.

In an adjoining column President Ellis has outlined some of the plans which he hopes to put into effect with the cooperation of the directors and entire membership during his term of office. The new president considers the membership of the chamber one of the most important factors to be considered and the directors, under his supervision, will give serious consideration to plans to bring into the chamber a new group of younger men, who, it is believed, will "add enthusiasm to the organization."

The directors have laid down a policy of 100 per cent cooperation with the city council and the board of supervisors.

"It is the desire", President Ellis also states, "of the directors also to cooperate with all the organizations represented in Nevada City and any programs they may wish us to consummate."

Ellis announced the chamber directors have under consideration of establishing a Community Chest in Nevada City. Instead of each civic organization asking for funds from the citizenry at every turn of the road, one drive for funds will be made each year.

The improvement and publicizing of the roads in the Nevada City district will be on the chamber's program. Ellis said special consideration will be given by the organization on roads to operating mines in this area.

It is possible the chamber will work toward establishing a museum in this city to attract outside tourists.

President Ellis states the chamber has a large program on which to work and in order to accomplish only a part of it the wholehearted cooperation of the entire community is necessary.

Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

We are sometimes amused in listening to a radio commentator on policies and war activities abroad to hear him refer to "my sources of information, "my reports," etc. Now as a matter of fact he could have no sources of information other than those of the various press services, unless he spent an enormous sum of money on his own account. To equip a private correspondent with credentials, eating and traveling money in all countries of war torn Europe would require an extremely long purse which we suspect the radio commentator does not possess.

At the moment the Greeks, Yugoslavs and the English are taking it on the chin, while the German steam roller cruises with its usual success, in so far at any rate as the initial Balkan campaign is concerned. While we don't think the tale told, we have lately begun to wonder whether there can be any decision of the war in the Balkans, so long as Britain holds control of the Mediterranean. Germany will have again extended its already tremendous perimeter, and will have again ruined considerable areas which have in the past contributed food and war supplies to her armies and people. Another huge police force, assuming that Hitler over-runs both Yugoslavia and Greece, will be necessary to hold sullen populations in check. In other words, we begin to suspect that this victory, if it proves to be such, in the long run will be another step toward his ultimate defeat, because Great Britain will still rule on the sea.

The sea is still the key to world dominion, and while many will marvel at the prescience of a house painter who prepared for war by creating mighty air armadas, and arming and training millions of men for his special "der tag" we are beginning to suspect that even Hitler's restless penetrating genius never grasped the importance of the sea, at least, not to the extent that Kaiser Wilhelm did more than a generation ago. When historians come to sum up the reasons for Germany's final defeat in the War of the Forties, we believe they will put their finger on the primary reason, i. e. lack of a navy.

We have suspected for sometime, as has also the commentator referred to above, that Britain has taken advantage of the Italian failure in its attacks on Greece to enveigle Hitler into the Balkans. The farther the Germans can be dragged from their primary sourcers of supply the more precarious their position becomes, so long as they have no navy to carry them food and munitions. With the extension of German forces into Italy and North Africa, the supply problem increases in what might be called geometric proportions. An army has to be fed to be effective, and huge increases in the food demand on populations already on slim rations with no avenues open by sea, cannot but increase hazards to Hitler and make his expanded holdings tenuous and risky.

No wonder Hitler is trying desperately to embroil the French navy in the war against Britain.

Town Prettier Than Woman Visitor Expected

"Nevada City is a very much prettier town than my husband had described to me."

That was the comment of a Nevada City visitor, a woman who had never before seen this city but who had been given descriptions by her husband, who formerly resided here.

The woman is Mrs. Sam Hugh Brockunier. She and her husband, who is a professor at a college in Connecticut, are guests at the home of Mrs. George Legg

Mr. Brockunier resided in Nevada City with his parents twenty years ago and will be remembered by some of the residents of the city at that time. Mr. Brockunier's memories of the city have always been pleasant and his present visit is affording him much pleasure.

The Brockuniers came to this city with Miss Fidella Legg, Mrs. Legg's daughter, who is a schoolteacher in Vallejo schools. They will remain in this city until Saturday.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS WILL DEBATE APR. 18

Youthful orators representing two high schools of Nevada County will meet in the auditorium of the Grass Valley High School at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, April 18, to compete for the county championship in the public speaking contest sponsored by the California Bankers Association. The theme of the contest is "The Responsibility of American Citizenship."

A representative of Nevada City High School will compete in Friday's contest with Charles Mosser of Grass Valey High School.

The winner of the contest will receive a gold medal and will represent Nevada County in the Sacramento Valley regional competition which will be held late in April. The judges will be Judge George L. Jones, H. Ward Sheldon and Lynne Kelly of Grass Valley.

The championship finals have been set for May 16 when ten regional winners will meet in the Veterans War Memorial Building, San Francisco, to compete for the state title and the grand prize, a vacation trip to Hawaii. The public is invited to attend all contests.

Gladiolus Bulb Sale Here For Two Days

A gladious bulb sale will be held in front of the Alpha Store here tomorrow and Saturday between the hours of 10 and 6 o'clock.

The bulbs were generously donated by U. S. N. Johnson. The sale is being sponsored by the local Rotary Club in behalf of Troops 23, 24, 6 and the Cub Pack. Scoutmaster Dwight Steele is making the arrangements for the sale.

Back From Mojave—

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Osborne of Town Talk have returned from a pleasant trip to Death Valley. They went by way of Reno, Fallon and Tonopah and returned by way of the Mojave Desert. They found a luxuriant growth of wild flowers in Death Valley and in the Mojave. They spent one night in Scottie's Death Valley Inn.

Chamber of Commerce Aims for Year

By GUERDON ELLIS
(President Nevada City Chamber of Commerce)

One of the most urgent things needed by the Chamber at this time is to increase its membership. This membership drive is necessary for two purposes — one to bring into the Chamber a new group of younger men who will add enthusiasm to the organization and secondly, there is the urgent need for funds.

From a rather extensive analysis of present funds secured from memberships and liabilities for operation, we shall have approximately $150 this year to carry on the Chambers work. This sum is entirely inadequate. For example, we have already obligated the Chamber in the amount of $100 for a descriptive folder. If the Chamber is going to accomplish any of its objectives it must have more funds and the only way I can think of securing same is from membership. In the past other benefits such as dances and fairs have not been a financial success but rather a drain upon the meager finances of the organization.

The Board of Directors have already stated some of their aims for the coming year. The first one which they have laid stress upon is that they will give careful consideration to all requests made by the memberships. Another policy laid down by the board is that they will cooperate 100% with the Nevada City Council and Board of Supervisors of Nevada County. It is the desire of the Directors also to cooperate with all the organizations represented in Nevada City and any programs they may wish us to consummate.

Already we have under consideration the matter of holding an annual Community Chest Drive which will be made for funds upon the citizenry once each year.

Several inquiries have been received by members of the Garden Clubs for a program of city beautification to include tree and shrub planting.

The Board of Directors will have six standing committees, as follows: Mining, Highways, Recreation and Travel Stimulation, Business and Civic Relationships, and Publicity. In the very near future the president will announce the membership of these various standing committees. For the committee of Recreation and Travel Stimulation a number of programs have already been submitted by organizations, interested citizens. One club desires that we give emphasis to the historical lure of this section including data on old buildings, the Donner Emigrant Trail, and other pioneer land marks.

The Chamber has just contracted for the publication of five thousand copies of an exclusive Nevada City folder. The City Council of Nevada City is cooperating on an equal basis with the Chamber in publishing this pamphlet. It will be a five to six page folder containing a map of the city of Nevada City in cartograph. The map has already been prepared by Miss Madeline Himes and is an excellent piece of art wok. The folder will contain illustrations of the following activities: Historical interests — a brief write-up of the history of the region together with pictures of the old fire house, the castle,

Sandin Flies Again Into F. Meadows

Pilot Unsuccessful In Venture To Drop Provisions

Another flight was made by Ed Sandin, local pilot, into French Meadows today to drop additional supplies and radio equipment to the two forest rangers marooned in a lonely mountain hut but because of snow Sandin was unable to drop the articles.

The daring local pilot, who flew as low as 199 feet Sunday to drop a radio and food to the two, Ranger H. I. Snider, who has a leg injury, and Assistant Ranger James Wheeler, who is caring for the injured man, was unable to petetrate below the clouds to drop the articles because it was snowing heavily.

In the meantime, a rescue crew led by Forest Ranger Frank McCaslin of the El Dorado National Forest and Ranger Charles Beardsley of Foresthill, are on their way into French Meadows from the Georgetown end with a tractor in an effort to bring out Snider that way.

Doubt was expressed whether the Georgtown rescue crew will be able to reach Snider inasmuch as the Middle Fork of the American River must be crossed to reach him.

If the weather breaks tomorrow, Dispatcher Ellwood M. Stone of the Tahoe National Forest said Sandin will make another flight into French Meadows in an effort to drop additional provisions and the radio equipment to the two men.

Supervisor Guerdon Ellis and Assistant Supervisor Ernest L. Baxter said every effort will be made to bring Snider to medical attention as soon as possible. If the Georgetown expedition is unsuccessful a snowmobile will be sent in from Big Bend when the weather clears and the snow hardens sufficiently for the use of the vehicle.

MARRIAGE MAY RESULT IN DROP OF RAPE CHARGE

The arraignment in the superior court here of Paul Aragon, 25, charged with rape by a 17 year old girl was halted while the defendant made application for a marriage license in the county clerk's office.

It was indicated if the marriage is consummated, the rape charge against Aragon will be dropped. The girl is expecting a child within the next couple of months.

The marriage move was seen as the best possible settlement of the case by District Attorney Vernon Stoll and Defense Counsel William Cassettari.

New Residents For Boulder Street; Twins Born To Johnsons

Mr. and Mrs. C. Herbert Johnson of Boulder Street recently became the proud parents of twins sons, whom they have named David Charles and Bruce Carl.

One of the infants at birth weighed five pounds one and one half ounces and the other weighed five pounds, six ounces.

Both the mother and the twins are getting along fine. The mother is expected to return home tomorrow but the children will remain at the hospital for a while.

Johnson is employed at the Zeibright mine.

Easter Message

(By The Rev. David Ralston)

In this dark hour of the world's history we sorely need an Easter message. Our very civilization is in danger of being blotted out. Liberty, freedom, justice and righteousness are being ignored, and by murderous brutality little nations are being crushed, homes, hospitals, schools, universities, cathedrals of massive proportions and exquisite beauty are being bombed and blasted to pieces. The most superficial thinker and the least religious minded people believe there is something terribly wrong in the world. For the past twenty five or thirty years our philosophy of life has been entirely out of step with the Easter spirit. Our philosophy has been that might is right. That philosophy has been the working principle of some of the European nations and see where it has plunged the world. Then the rain falls on the just and the unjust and the good are punished with the bad.

There are three outstanding vital and most significant events in human history with which we must be become familiar and appropriate the transforming and uplifting moral and spiritual power of these events. These events are birth, death and resurrection of Christ. In His birth God is being revealed in a most wonderful way as coming down to lift us up. In His death we have compassion, forgiveness and everlasting love winning the hearts of men everywhere until His kingdom is established in the hearts of men and His standard of life will become the way of life for all peoples. The Resurrection of Christ is the climaxing event. The philosophy of might is right will

'Tomorrow May Not Come'

The Easter season is here—season of hope everlasting and faith eternal. What will it mean, one wonders, to people abroad in the grips of deadly war?

The philosophy of war-bitten countries, they say, changes from day to day, from week to week, as life becomes more precarious. Courage remains among a courageous people, but moral and social values fluctuate with the surge of war.

"Criminal activities among youth," reports a social survey committee, "in blacked-out London today is on the increase—just as adult crime is intensified by living conditions geared for war, not for peace."

"The tendency among youth particularly, in this war as in the last, is toward a philosophy of living "just for today—for tomorrow may not come.' You hear it too often to be comfortable about it."

Yet—when Easter dawn tips a million towering crosses on a million high flung hills—possibly one thing and one only will touch for a time the hearts of the bombing, killing, warlocked peoples abroad, and make them remember. That is a deep-seated sureness, passed down along the rolls of humanity since Christ died and rose again, that Easter is the reminder and the proof of hope everlasting and faith eternal. War, however bitter, however annihilative, has never, can never blot it out.—Contributed.

The Pacific Era

Pacific, literally translated, means peaceful. But the Pacific Ocean, actually, is rougher than the Atlantic. We mention this curious oddity because Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford University, declared last week that "The Pacific era has begun—bringing with it the greatest of our future problems for the human race."

Said Mr. Wilbur: "Around the Pacific (Ocean) are gathered a major portion of all living human beings. To them comes the last great opportunity for man on this earth to conquer himself as he masters space and develops a barrier, which has held people apart, into a passageway to bring them together'.'

Regardless of the outcome of the current European war—whether Britain wins, or Hitler finally emerges victorious—President Wilbur is doubtless right in saying that this is the dawn of the Pacific era. Europe has been weakened by too much blood-letting. The nations of the Atlantic are on the downgrade—and Europe is like an imperious old man who wears a topper and spats in the grand manner, but leans on a cane.

The future of our own nation —and the future of the world—lies on the shores of the Pacific. This is a new world comparatively—a world still strong in men, in wealth, in natural resources. Here the drama of the future will be played. And California has a seat on the middle aisle, front and center. There are clouds over the Pacific as this is written. Battle fleets are cruising in the Pacific. Island fortifications are being rushed to completion in the Pacific. But we hope, in the words of President Wilbur of Stanford, that we, who have put wings across the Pacific, shall yet make them wings of peace. Dark as the outlook at the moment may be, we hope that the Pacific era shall somehow, someway be an era of peace—in which man, who has learned to conquer nearly everything else —shall learn to conquer himself.—Contributed.

Just Wonderin'

I wonder if our hands can lift
The torch of freedom high
And kindle stars of faith and hope
In many a darkened sky;
And if the creed of Liberty
Within each soul is burning,
Shall we not find the road to peace
For which our hearts are yearning?
I wonder if the Statue of Liberty is sad tonight. Gazing out across the waves to the land from whence she came. do her clear eyes fill with tears? Does she lift the torch of Freedom higher and yet higher, so that France may see and again take heart?

That may seem like a fantastic thought; but events are daily transpiring in lands other than our own, which might well move a heart of stone, bronze, or even cold, implacable steel. Our human hearts cannot fail to answer to the cries of enslaved peoples and our hands must lift high the torch of Liberty, so that the stars of hope may be enkindled and the road to peace be soon discerned.

The Statue of Liberty, presented to this nation by a once proud France, symbolizes the part America must play in the drama of world events. Americans, all, we are important people, for each one of us has a torch to hold. Ours—yours and mine, may not be great flaming ones, that shine far out across the troubled waters of human sorrow and despair, but even the least among us may be one with that mighty brigade who, "keep the lower lights still burning," and tend the smaller shrines of Liberty, Truth and Justice.

I wonder if you have a friend like this one of mine. He is an intelligent man. capable and well beloved by all who are privileged to know him; but he has an old age complex. Having arrived at the "three score and ten" mark, he feels that he is living upon borrowed time, and should now be content to sit himself down and wait patiently for the old gentleman with the long white locks and sharp scythe.

If all our seventy vear olds felt like that, legislative halls would miss many familiar and experienced go-getters. judicial benches would deplore the loss of many able jurists and every other walk of life would suffer. Seventy should step right up, swing into line with the parade and give him of the scythe, a run for his money. To those who feel the old age complex coming on, I give these lines of Robert Browning's:

"Grow old along with me,
The best is yet to be."

Uncle Silas says: "It's all right for the lady folk to watch caloric intake, but no man can live by vitamines alone."

THINKING OUT LOUD

And no wonder he protests angrily at the help the United States is throwing into the balance against him. If he were logical he would not protest, for he accepted all the help Italy could give him up to the moment Mussolini entered the war.

It would seem to a layman, with little or no knowledge of military strategy, that Hitler's best course, if he hoped to win, would be to concentrate all efforts on shutting off supplies to Britain. The more fuel he uses up in the Balkans, in North Africa and in Norway, in fact the more war supplies of every kind he uses to maintain his grip on subject populations along the great circle of his conquests, the less he will have to throw directly into the vital business (for him) of severing Britain's life line. In other words, the more he lays waste, the less he has to lay waste with.

WITH YOUR ASSEMBLYMAN THURMAN AT THE STATE CAPITOL

The reapportionment measure which was referred to in this column last week was approved by the Assembly Reapportionment Committee last Saturday and now goes to the floor of the lower house where it will be heard next Monday. The writer predicts that the bill will pass practically in the form in which it was approved by the committee.

Under the measure, San Francisco loses two assemblymen and Alameda County loses one. As a result, Los Angeles County gains two seats in the lower house and Kern County one. San Francisco did not give up its two seats without a protest but they were outvoted in the committee and will now carry the fight to the floor.

The Sixth Assembly District of which Nevada County is a part, remains intact. An attempt to add Sierra County to the ten other counties which now comprise the district was tabled by the committee. Should Sierra County citizens desire to join with the other Mother Lode counties of the 6th district, an amendment to that effect could be presented in the senate when the bill reaches that house. The writer believes that Sierra County should be a part of this district as the interests of that county are tied in with the other counties of the district. However we desire to hear from the people of that county before any such move is made.

In the reapportionment of the congressional districts, the Second District, of which this county is a part remains the same as it is today comprising 18 mountain and foothill counties extending from the Oregon state line to and including Inyo County. Attempts to add several valley counties to the district were defeated in committee upon the request of the writer.

This week the battle of the budget began on Wednesday. Many serious cuts were made in several departments of agriculture, the mining board and the state board of forestry. However, your assemblyman with the help of other rural legislators was able to restore most of the cuts made in the board of forestry's budget. Had these cuts not been restored the fire suppression work would have been seriously handicapped. Money spent in fire protection and prevention is the best kind of fire insurance the state can buy to protect its timber and water shed area. Attempts to restore some of the cuts made in the agriculture and mining budgets will be made upon the floor of the assembly and there is a strong possibility that several restorations will be made.

During the week, the lower house passed the senate bill which would return relief to the counties. There is quite a difference of opinion regarding the returning of the administration of relief to the counties and it is doubtful if the governor will sign the measure.

The past week was a busy one for all of the legislators including Senators Dillinger of El Dorado County, Brown of Inyo County, Mayo of Calaveras County and Seawell of Placer County. All of these senators had numerous measures of their own both in committee and on the floor. Senator Seawell was successful in having two fish and game bills sponsored by the writer, passed in the senate.

Don Mayhew, who has been employed at the Lava Cap Mine, left for San Jose today where he has accepted a fine position. He has resided in Nevada City six years and many friends will regret his departure.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF REPORTS HUGE WORK DONE

The local British War Relief Committee in the monthly meeting held on Wednesday reported the shipping of three consignments, aggregating 17 cases, during the month of March, to the Northern California Association headquarters.

Eleven of these cases were packed with good warm used clothing, which had been donated by many people and which were inspected and mended when necessary by the committee, and cleaned free of charge through the courtesy of the management of the Grass Valley Laundry and Dry Cleaning Service. The other cases contained fifty two knitted articles—sweaters, helmets, socks and scarves, made by the knitting groups, sixty five garments and quilts made in the sewing groups. Donations of new clothing were: 10 hand made crib comforters, 4 boy's suits, 1 boy's coat, 2 dozen boy's shirts, 40 women's and children's warm underwear.

A check for $550 for the purchase of a hospital bed and its maintenance for one year was sent early in March by the local group, and the usual pledged monthly check for $50 was again drawn upon the local treasury at the April meeting.

The committees have a few tickets still available on the sale of the purebred, registered Jersey cow, "Fussy Fern," a gift of Mrs. Edna L. Knight of Willowmeadom Farm, and sponsored by the California Jersey Cattle Club and the British War Relief Association, by proceeds to be used to purchase condensed and the dried milk for civilian air raid victims and bombed British children. The drawing will take place on April 26th in San Luis Obispo.

The San Francisco headquarters reported that there are now 130 groups working in the Northern California Association. They report a record number of shipments sent in the month of March. They have sent thirty seven tons of clothing, drugs, hospital supplies, service and civilian woolens in four shipments during the past month. They have learned of the loss of a second ship. This is only the second loss the Northern California Association has had and they are now working on their thirty sixth shipment.

Mrs. Henry Searls, chairman of the knitting department announced the excellent total of 8,043 service garments shipped this month. The hospital department has completed and shipped approximately 125,000 pieces, which include surgical supplies, warm dressing gowns, bed jackets, pajamas and hospital gowns.

During the month of March the association cabled to London the sum of 8,751 pounds sterling, the equivalent of $35,375. This sum was distributed:

270 pounds to the British Red Cross.

125 pounds to the Scottish Red Cross.

50 pounds to St. Dunstan's—For war blinded.

250 pounds for French refugees in Engand.

2,475 pounds to the Lady Reading Service for children and civilian relief.

200 pounds for the equipment of a Bomber Rest Station.

5,381 pounds to Middleton Park Hospital. This sum will enable the hospital to expand from present 65 to a total of 100 beds, and cover the maintenance for one year

The Grass Valley-Nevada City hospital bed was among the beds added to the Middleton Park Hospital. A letter received from Lady Reading states that the needs of the homeless in Britain are "like the proverbial bottomless jar". Clothing stores and depots are emptied over night after a bad bombing attack. Children need very much warmer clothing and the thicker shoes, and she speaks of the ever increasing need of the war nurseries which are being opened to receive babies under 5 years of age.

This week the San Francisco headquarters will be closed for spring cleaning and the local groups will not meet at the hotel headquarters during Easter Week. Work is available to take home both in sewing and knitting.

POLITICAL PARADE

BY CLEM WHITAKER

Even though the state legislature is bowling along at a much faster clip than in former years—and tending to its business with commendable dispatch—there's still time, between committee hearings, to talk a bit of politics.

Next year is governorship year—and the pot's boiling like an overheated tea kettle.

Governor Olson, being the incumbent gets first consideration. All and sundry agree that the governor, while still in the dog house with the legislature, is handling himself much better—and the story is out that Jack Elliott is pulling the public relations strings in the background. Mr. Olson, with all the strikes as against him, is rated a serious contender.

Speaker of the Assembly Gordon Garland, who has taken Mr. Olson's measure in numerous legislative battles, is the next most talked about gentleman. As Speaker Garland has put punch into proceedings and made an enviable record. A Democrat, but a middle of the roader, instead of a leftist, he would pull a tremendous vote in the back country and would probably take the conservative Bourbon vote in the cities. Speaker Garland is undoubtedly Governor Olson's most potent opponent in his own party.

Mayor Fletcher Bowron of Los Angeles, since his impressive showing in the recent mayoralty primary where he polled almost as many votes as all his opponents combined, looks like a promising GOP contender, if he enters. For the moment, his stock eclipses that of Attorney General Earl Warren, hereofore considered the major Republican aspirant There's a whispering campaign going on against Warren (that he's a blue nose reformist) which isn't helping. And State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson, who has always won re-election to his present office most handily, is making plenty of progress. Mr. Johnson knows his way around politically—and he has a good name; you can't laugh that off in a state election!

Switching back to the Democratic party, Senator Robert Kenny, the shrewd boy from Los Angeles, might split Governor Olson's vote right down the middle, if he started. With Olson and Kenny battling it out for the liberal and left wing votes, and with maybe District Attorney Dockweiler of L. A. and one or two others adding to the excitement, Speaker Garland might walk in between them—and take the nomination.

That's what you hear, these days in Capitol corridors. There are many other names mentioned of course, and one of the also-rans now may be formidable—in 1942. There's still a lot of water to run under the bridge!

Hint to Motorists—If the scenery moves you, move to the side of the road and enjoy it, says the California Highway Patrol. Don't try to look at it from the middle of the highway if you are the driver.

WESTERN UNION TO OPEN SUNDAY

Robert Young is getting those "different" roles that he has been hunting.

His first "different" opportunity came with "Northwest Passage" in which he played a scout. Then he portrayed a "heavy" in "Mortal Storm" and more recently he was given a gun, spurs and a bucking horse for his role in Zane Grey's "Western Union" which 20th Century-Fox filmed in Technicolor and comes Sunday to the Nevada Theatre.

"I liked 'Mortal Storm'," Bob said. "I felt that at last I had a role I could sink my teeth into. It was more than just good manners and debonair speech.

"That's true, too, of my role in 'Western Union.' Can you imagine Bob Young as quick on the trigger? It's a challange to see if I can do it. That's what makes the role interesting.

"I think I can. I've been riding for years. Muss up my hair some, brown me up a bit, and I don't look much like those society fellows I've played so often."

Young's never done any roping or brandng but he's seen enough Westerns being made in Holywood to know what it's all about. Add to that some intensive training under experts and he quickly became a real Westerner. Others featured with him in the brilliant cast of "Western Union" are Randolph Scott, Dean Jagger and Virginia Gilmore.

THE RECORD···· Facts That Concern You No. 26 of a Series

ARE YOU SEEING ONLY PART OF THE PICTURE?

The great majority of beer retail establishments are clean wholesome places.

Yet it is the once-in-a-while exception—the anti-social, law-violating tavern that everybody notices.

Such undesirable retailers give beer a bad name it doesn't deserve. Furthermore, by arousing public indignation, retailing abuses endanger your right to enjoy good beer, the beverage of moderation. They also endanger the benefits that beer has brought to California—102,698 persons employed since re-legalization, an annual payroll of $90,386,601 and $2,186,489.99 taxes paid last year.

While it is the brewers' responsibility to brew good beer and the retailers' responsibility to sell it under wholesome conditions, nevertheless the brewing industry wants anti-social retailing eliminated entirely.

You can help us by (1) patronizing only the legal and reputable places where beer is sold and (2) by reporting any law violations you may observe to the duly constituted law enforcement authorities.

THIS WEEK in DEFENSE

The office of Production Management announced that up to March 8 Congress had authorized expenditures of $16,300,000,000 for the Army and the Navy, and the two forces had awarded contracts for $11,800,000,000 of this amount in addition to pay and subsistence for soldiers and sailors.

OPM also announced that up to March 1, the U. S. and British governments spent about $2,137,000,000 enlarging or building defense plants. Another $393,000,000 worth of plants was financed privately, the agency estimated.

Information on how to get orders, the OPM stated, is readily available from their Defense Contract Service offices at every Federal Reserve Bank. The agency warned, however, that agents or "contacts" cannot help get a contract, and any contract obtained through an agent on a fee basis is subject to cancellation.

Defense Investigations

Senator Truman (D., Missouri) announced his special Senate committee was ready to begin its investigation of the defense program for the information of the Senate, and the House voted authority to the Military and Naval Affairs Committees to conduct similar investigations. Both House committees were given power to subpoena witnesses and investigate the labor situation.

Aid To Democracies

President Roosevelt announced he had released $500,000,000 in equipment from present Army and Navy stocks for transfer abroad, had allocated $1,580,000,000 for purchase of defense equipment including shipyards and 212 cargo ships.

The president did not itemize the equipment released, but said the transfers were similar to the release of field artillery to Greece announced earlier in the week. The president also stated he is developing plans to aid Jugoslavia.

Ships Seized

The Coast Guard took into custody 28 Italian, 2 German, and 35 Danish merchant ships in American waters to prevent sabotage Italian and German crews were arrested and charged with sabotage. Some were indicted by federal juries and the U. S. requested the naval attache to the Italian embassy be withdrawn because of charges in connection with the sabotage.

Sabotage

The Office for Emergency Management announced a comprehensive program for fire and sabotage protection under the supervision of state fire coordinators and local defense fire chiefs in cooperation with the federal government. In a bulletin outlining the program, detailed suggestions were given regarding fire-fighting facilities, fire alarm communications, water supply, reserve man power and mechanical equipment, and protection of production and transportation.

Army Air Expansion

The War Department announced ten additional flying schools are planned at Macon and Albany, Georgia; Salem, Alabama; Ellington Field Texas; Bakersfield, Taft and Mather Field, California; Phoenix, Arizona; and Las Vegas, Nevada, as part of the program to train 30,000 pilots a year. The department also announced plans for $29,000,000 in additional school facilities to train 100,000 plane technicians each year at Biloxi, Mississippi; Witchita Falls, Texas; Scott Field, Illinois; Lowry Field and Fort Logan, Denver, Colorado; Chanute Field, Illinois; and at 15 civilian schools.

New Army Units

The Army announced plans to form 300 new units composed of 148,000 draftees who will complete 13 weeks' initial instruction at replacement centers by June 30. The new units will include 9 mobile and semi-mobile anti-aircraft regiments, 22 coast artillery groups, 10 light and medium tank batallions, 51 medical, 25 ordnance, 127 quartermaster and 17 field artillery organizations, 9 signal corps groups and 7 cavalry and 5 chemical warfare units.

Selective Service

The Selective Service System formed a medical advisory council to improve the system's medical examination techniques and plan health programs for men rejected as physically disqualified.

Selective Service also extended to 10 days the time limitation on filing of appeals from local board decisions and announced the start of a campaign to point out the opportunities of appeal.

Navy Progress

The Navy announced it completed in the last month construction of six warships—four destroyers and two submarines—giving the Navy 328 combatant ships as of April 1-15 battleships, 6 aircraft carriers, 37 cruisers, 164 destroyers and 107 sub marines

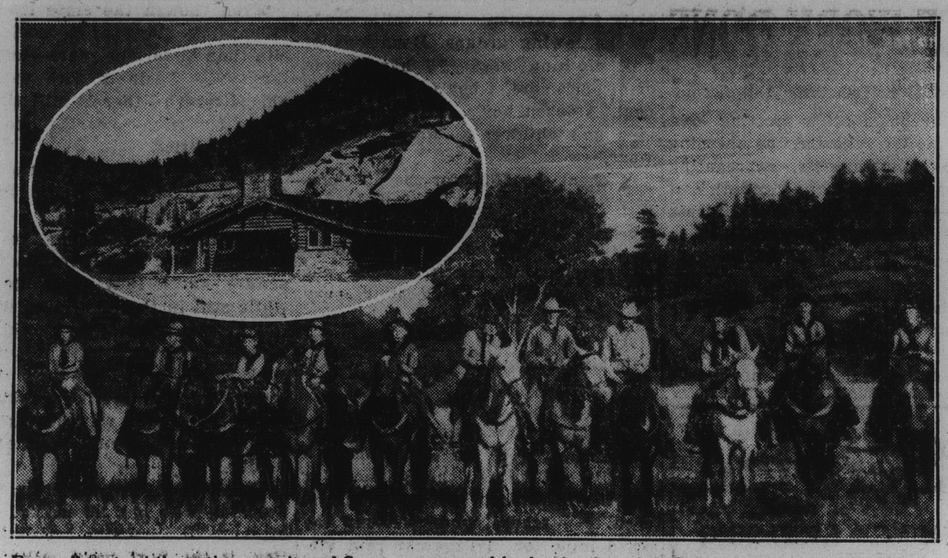
Boy Scouts Enjoy National Wilderness Camp



From all parts of the nation experienced Scout campers and leaders head for their Philturn Rockymountain Scout-camp of 35,857 acres of mountain country near Cimarron, New Mexico for an unsurpassed wilderness camping experience. The camp, located in the land of Kit Carson's exploits, is developed and maintained by the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America who received the land in 1938 as a gift from Waite Phillips of Tulsa, Okla.

Celebration Planned In Grass Valley Tonight For Champion

Elton (Bub) Tobiassen, Nevada City youth who recently won the 145 pound intercollegiate boxing championship, will be honored at a celebration arranged for him at the Veterans Memorial Building in Grass Valley tonight by the Hague-Thomas-Hegarty Post of the American Legion.

A free boxing show will be presented, in which Tobiassen, two teammates, Jack Shamberger and Howard Briggs, and the California Aggies coach, Myron Schall, will take part.

It is expected a large number of Nevada Cityans will attend the event. A public reception for Tobiassen was held here last Saturday night.

Leaves Hospital—

George Ebaugh, injured when his automobile crashed into a tree at Pine and Sacramento Streets, has left the Miners Hospital, where he was confined for a short time.

Noble McComrack Gets Advance In Position, Pay

Noble McCormack, deputy county clerk who enlisted for a year's military training at San Luis Obispo, has been advanced to a first class private and as a result has received an increase in pay.

In letters to relatives and friends here, Young McCormack tells of his camp experiences and states he underwent a rigid examination for a position as truckdriver. His average in the tests was above 93.

Recently McCormack had the honor of presenting a gift and making a farewell address at ceremonies on the departure of the company's captain on a transfer.

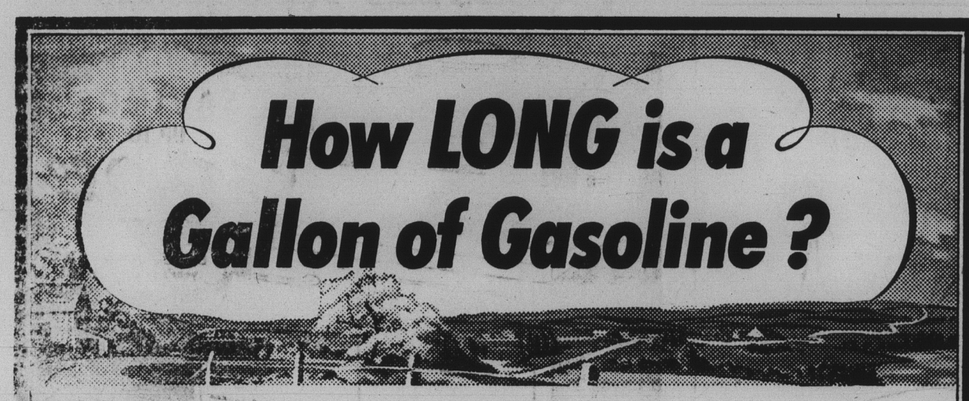
How LONG is a Gallon of Gasoline?



WELL, it's longer going downhill than up, longer going slow than fast—but the important new discovery of the year (or since Buick's Compound Carburetion* appeared) is that it's longer when you have two carburetors teamed like Buick's than when you have one!

Here's why:

In easy going like most of your travel, just one of Buick's smaller-than-usual carburetors thriftily handles all engine requirements.

Only when you want extra power does the second carburetor come in.

Then, momentarily, it adds extra fuel and extra power only while it's needed.

Result is that carburetion is always fitted to your driving need.

You're never driving with a carburetor that's bigger than you need for low-range travel, or one that's too small for top-range performance.

Now the net result is that the same-size engines give up as much as 10% to 15% more miles-per-gallon than last year.

And that's a handsome saving—mighty handsome in a car big and roomy and smart as a Buick.

Look over the next Buick that passes you—or better yet, go trial-drive one—and see if you don't agree.

BUICK PRICES BEGIN AT $915 for the Business Coupe delivered at Flint, Mich. State tax, optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

*Optional equipment on the Buick SPECIAL, standard on all other models.

Buick SPECIAL 6-passenger Sedanet, $1006. White sidewall tires extra.★

Good Friday Service

will be as follows:

12:00 noon-3:00 p. m. The Three Hour Devotional Service will be celebrated on this Good Friday. The Reverend David Ralston of the Methodist Church will share this service with Rev. H. Thomas Pateman as guest speaker. Mr. Ralston will speak upon the sixth and seventh words spoken on the Cross. The Good Friday service is as follows:

1 Silent prayer. Hymn 152.

2 Morning prayer begun. Psalm 40, Prayer book, page 390.

3 First Lesson, Isaiah 53. Hymn 149.

4 Introductory address. Hymn 154.

5 Second Lesson, St. John 18. Hymn 135.

6 Address on the first word from the Cross, "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do."

7 Apostles' Creed, Prayer Book, page 15, and special prayers, Hymn 388.

8 Address on second word, "Today shalt thou be with Me in Paradise." Hymn 139.

9 Address on the third word, —"Woman, behold thy son." Hymn 134 (To be sung kneeling.)

10 Penitential Office, Prayer Book page 60. Hymn 240.

11 Address on fourth word, "My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken Me." Hymn 244.

12 Collect, Epistle and Gospel for Good Friday, Prayer Book, page 156. Hymn 159.

13 Address on the fifth word. "I thirst." Hymn 217.

14 Proper Psalms for Good Friday—Psalm 69, Prayer Book, page 421. Psalm 88, Prayer Book, page 448.

15 Address on sixth word, "It is finished." By the guest speaker, the Rev. David Ralston. Hymn 222.

16 Address on seventh word. "Father, into Try Hands I commend My Spirit." By the guest speaker, Mr. Ralston. Hymn 211.

17 Silent Prayer and Devotions.

18 The Nicene Creed and Benediction.

It is hoped that many can remain for the entire service. If it becomes necessary for you to leave the church before the conclusion of the service, please do so during the singing of a hymn.

POLLUTION BILLS STILL HARASS SLUICE MINERS

The outstanding feature of the March meeting of Hydraulic Mining Association, held in Auburn at Hotel Auburn, was a statement by Col. Hannum, army engineer in charge of the construction of hydraulic mining debris dams, that the state of California was not cooperating with the federal government in the program.

Col. Hannum made this remark when the anti-dragline bill, Assembly Bill 2006 introduced by Sacramento County Assemblymen, came up for discussion. The bill, not only aimed at draglines but all types of mining that are apt to discolor the waters of any stream. He stated that after much study by the War Department it was determined that the debris dams would properly restrain the debris, not only from mining but also from natural erosion. Then the department made a contract with the miners to build the dams providing said miners would agree to use them. The mining companies agreed and guaranteed the construction costs. Two of the dams are now ready for use but with the so-called pollution bills forever popping up in the legislature and the state arresting and convicting operators for using the dams, the future of hydraulic mining in the area served by the dams is not very bright.

There's no doubt but that the War Department would have the power to guarantee that the miners could use the dams, but neither the miners or the department have ever considered such drastic steps. In these days of economic upheavals and enormous government expenditure it appears that any industry that is producing the needed new wealth should be encouraged and not put into a straight jacket. In order to guarantee prospective operators the right to use the dam either the War Department should take the necessary steps or both sides in the "pollution" fights should get together for mutual benefit.

The mine operators need the right to work their ground and the objectors need the flow of new capital into their business channels. The state and the national governments also badly need the tax revenues that would result in a proper compromise movement.

Following the association meeting, Assemblyman Thurman of the Sixth District in which the debris dams are located, reportted that he had had the objectionable 2006 transferred from the Municipal Corporations committee to the Mining committee, of which he is chairman. In this way it will ge a hearing from a group that understands the problems of the industry.

Smiths Vacationing—

Associate Forester and Mrs. Leland Smith and family are expected to return tonight from a short vacation trip.

PLANS FOR EPISCOPAL CHURCH CONCLAVE HERE COMPLETED

Rev. H. Thomas Pateman, who will be host to Episcopal Church clergy from all parts of Northern California at the convention of the Sacramento Diocese in this city on April 22nd and 23rd, announces the program for the conclave has been completed.

In an article appearing in the last issue of the Sacramento Missionary it was urged every parish and mission be represented at the convention here. A suggestion was made for the chartering of a bus which would leave Yreka and pick up delegates all along the line. Cities through which the bus would pass include Yreka, Dunsmuir, Redding, Red Bluff, Corning, Willows, Colusa, Woodland, Sacramento and Auburn.

The program for the convention is as follows:

Tuesday, April 22nd, 3:30 p. m.—Registration; 4:00 p. m., Organization, nominations, etc.; 6:30 p. m. dinner at the National Hotel. Welcome: The Rev. H. T. Pateman, Rector of Nevada City. Speakers: Mrs. Casebolt Dakin, The Bishop of The Diocese; The Rt. Rev. W. T. Remington, Bishop of Eastern Oregon. 9:00 p. m. Conference of Parish treasurers with the archdeacon.

Wednesday, April 23rd, 9:30 a. m.—Opening service. Preacher: The Bishop of Eastern Oregon. Brief institution of Archdeacon Barron. Remembrance of the Faithful Departed.

11:00 a. m.—Business of the convention. Reports, elections, etc.

12:45 p. m.—Luncheon at the National Hotel.

2:15 p. m.—Business of the convention.

3:30 p. m.—Joint session and closing prayers.

4:00 p. m.—Tea at Emmanuel Parish House in Grass Valley.

Crampton Speaks At Rotary Club Meeting

Frank Crampton, local mining man who spent many years in China, told of his experiences and gave his opinions of the future prospects for the country at a meeting of the Rotary Club here today.

Crampton spoke as the guest of William Tamblyn. The speaker also displayed pictures he took in China.

Child Dies, Five Brothers And Sisters Ill Of Poisoning

Five children of Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Walker of North San Juan are improving in the county hospital here from some sort of poisoning, which claimed the life of the youngest member of the family, Bavagita, 4.

The entire family ate mushrooms at a general meal and the following day consumed canned cherries. The stomach of the deceased child was sent to a Sacramento pathologist by Coroner A. M. Holmes to determine the exact cause of death.

The five children under treatment at the county hospital are Curnelia, 16, Argula, 13, Beverly, 10, Doris, 9, and Clarice, 6. Superintendent Richard Rodda said all are now out of danger.

The body of Bavagita is at the Holmes Funeral Home in Grass Valley pending arrangements for the funeral.

Bavagita died in a Grass Valley hospital two hours after she was taken to the institution by the parents. Peculiarly, neither Mr. or Mrs. Walker suffered ill efects from the mushrooms or cherries.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AIMS

the old brick assay office with its iron doors and windows; the section on recreation will have cuts illustrating the winter sports activities, fishing, hunting, and scenery. In an effort to call attentoin to the aspect of home building in Nevada City a secton will be devoted illustrating some of the nicer homes in town together with pictures of school and church facilities. The photograph work for the folder will be furnished bu Maurice Kach of Grass Valley and through the courtesy of the Sacramento Bee and the United States Forest Service.

The mining activities will be prominently displayed in the folder with cuts of the Lava Cap Mine, an action scene in one of the hydraulic mines and a few miners going down into the depths in a skip.

Mention in the folder will be given to the beautiful spring wildflower displays in this vicinity calling attention to the cherry blossoms in the San Juan area and the Scotch Broom Blooms, as well as the wild lilac.

So much for the folder. Some one has called our attention to the fact that this county is very interesting from the standpoint of geology and there are numerous fossil beds in this area which could be used to stimulate travel. It has been suggested that the Native Sons and Daughters sponsor a museum which could be an attraction for tourists.

An enthusiastic camera hobbiest has suggested the Chamber might well sponsor a photographic contest in order to get people interested in photographing a really beautiful country that we have about us. In and around Nevada City there are many short tours of a day which could be made to old mining diggings which have much of historical lure to recommend them. It has been suggested that the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce enthusiastically support San Juan in its annual Cherry Festival and the possibility of Nevada City having a festival of its own has been suggested. Another group has figured we should use the slogan "Fly to Nevada City" and induce people to come here in their airplanes and from this locality they could branch out into almost any form of recreational activity. To accomplish this of course, some improvement must be made to the Nevada City airport.

Many projects have been suggested by interested citizens for the highway committee to work upon more recommendations and come in for betterment of the mother lode highwav No. 49 known as the Nevada City-Downieville highway. Much work remains in widening and straightening of this highway between here and Camptonville as well as from Camptonville to the North Fork of the Yuba River. Highway 20 which is receiving publciity at this time and known as Tahoe-Pacific Highway needs considerable work done upon it in the Bear Valley section in order to remove many sharp turns and grades which have been responsible for many serious accidents. The Chamber of Commerce feels that they can with profit lend their aid to the extension of Highway 20 to the Pacific Ocean in the vicinity of Fort Bragg. There would then be a highway clear across the state from the Pacific Ocean to Lake Tahoe which would give a complete cross section of all forms of recreation within the state. Nevada City as well as all other cities along this route would profit from increased travel brought about by the completion and betterment of this really remarkable highway.

Many people in Nevada City as well as Grass Valley are demanding that a safer and faster road be provided between the two cities. It has been suggested by some if Nevada City is to really grow its major traveled highway through it should be re-routed. Chamber recognizes the need for better roads to our operating mines and will work toward that end. These activities are but a part of the many which the directors are considering and which have been recommended by interested parties. You can see the Chamber has a large program on which to work and in order to accomplish only a part of it we are going to have to have the whole hearted cooperation of the entire community.

prevail for today and tomorrow but not the third day. Dr. E. S. Jones in his great book entitled "Is Christianity Realism" says Force can never win. It will win today and tomorrow, but the third day, no. The third day Christ arose and because He did the spiritual forces will win. Christ the Lord is risen today! Hallelujah! Here is the crowning fact of all history. Here is the way to a new world. Here is the way to peace, joy, and world brotherhood and there is no other.

At this moment we are engaged in the greatest war of all time. Other wars grow pale in its presence. It is a war on land, in the air. On the sea and under the sea, and no man can tell when it will stop. Even our own country is honey-combed with traitors and those who do not appreciate our marvelous heritage of democracy and freedom, and the privilege of worshiping God according to the dictates of our conscience. In American forums, in senate chambers we are quibbling over the right to help those who are fighting for their lives, and to save democracy while Alexandria is burning. Men, women and children are being blown to pieces, the sound of the shelter alarm is becoming a nightmare, and life itself becomes a hazardous dare. In such a world do we not need this Easter Message? Over nineteen hundred years ago, it needed it, and despite our boasted literary and scientific advancements we need this message as never before. Lets capitalize these words which mean so much to the world at this time. Christ the Lord is Risen today! Hallelujah! "Go and tell my Disciples and Peter that I have arisen and goeth before them into Jerusalem. Tarry ye in the Upper Room until ye are endued with power to carry on my work." This is the message that shall finally win. It is the message of sacrificial love and victory. It is not by air bombers, not by battleships but by the way of the upper Room, the way of the Cross and the Resurrection that we shall win the world and men shall brothers be the world over.

Christ the Lord is risen today—Hallilula! Sons of men and angels say Halluleia!
